Technical incident on flight LG4541

Flight LG4541 from Luxembourg had to return to Luxembourg airport following a technical incident.

On Wednesday May 8th, Luxair flight LG4541 from Luxembourg to Manchester encountered a technical incident and for safety reasons it was decided to turn around and return to the departure airport.

The passengers were informed by the captain and the crew and their safety was not in jeopardy at any time. As a precaution and following regulations, the aircraft was escorted by emergency services upon landing until its parking position in Luxembourg.

The passengers on board were taken care of, a new flight has been organised today on an alternate aircraft. It is already en route to Manchester and will land there with a total delay of approximately 2h30.
