

Self-declaration

The purpose of this self-declaration is to enable you to board an aircraft if you are unable to provide proof of testing on site and there are appropriate reasons. The document remains in the possession of the person signing it.

The undersigned person with Swiss citizenship or a residence permit issued by Switzerland, hereby confirms that, pursuant to Article 9a(5)(c) of the Ordinance on Measures to Combat the Coronavirus (COVID-19) in International Passenger Transport, it has not been possible for him/her to be tested for Sars-CoV-2 within a reasonable time or at reasonable expense.

Reason why testing could not be performed

- No testing facilities in the country of departure (neither PCR nor rapid antigen tests)
- Disproportionately high, additional time required (e.g. additional travel time)
- Expiration of PCR test during travel; no rapid test available within a reasonable time
- Other (please specify):

At the same time, the undersigned confirms that he/she is aware of the requirements set out in Article 7¹ of the above-mentioned Ordinance and that the obligations set out therein will be adhered to upon arrival in Switzerland.

Art. 7 Requirement to be tested and to quarantine

1. The following persons must prove that they have undergone a molecular-biological test for Sars-CoV-2 within the previous 72 hours and that the test result was negative:

- a. persons entering Switzerland who have at any time in the previous 10 days stayed in a country or region with an increased risk of infection;
- b. persons entering Switzerland on an aircraft from a country or region that does not have an increased risk of infection.

2 Persons under paragraph 1 letter a are required on entry to travel immediately and directly to their home or to other suitable accommodation. They must remain there without leaving at any time for 10 days following their entry (quarantine on entry).

3. Persons under paragraph 1 who are unable to produce proof of a negative test on entering Switzerland must immediately and at their own expense undergo one of the following tests by arrangement with the responsible cantonal authority:

- a. a molecular-biological test for Sars-CoV-2; or
- b. a Sars-CoV-2 rapid test.
